Call for the National Democratic Convention.

The National Democratic Committee, by virtue of the authority enforced upon them by the last National Democratic Convention at a meting held this day at Wasthington, D. C., voted to hold the next Convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for president and Vice-President of the United States on the 4th day of July, 1868, at 12 o'clock M., in the City of New York. The basis of representation, as fixed by the last National Democratic Convention, is double the number of Senators and Repre-sentatives in Congress of each State under the last apportingment.

Each State is invited to send delegates accordingly.

Death of Ex-President James Buchanan.

Mr. Buchanan died on Monday last, a his residence, near Lancaster. His name is the nation loses one more of the old and genuinely patriotic class.

In haste we write this, but more fitting tribute will be paid to his memory in our next.

The Coming Man.

Numerous excellent men have been named in the Democratic press, and have been spoken of in private circles, as being each proper and available candidates for the Presidency. As all know, each have garnest and hard-working adherents. The claims of some are urged for what they have done; and of others for what they have not done; thus bringing positive and negative qualities into the political balance. Certainly the friends of GRANT can claim little for him except his ability to lead men into battle. The same may be said of HANCOCK; but nothing can be said against either of these men as pilots or guides in public civil affairs, for the very plain reason, if for no other, that neither of them have been before the public in a civil capacity giving them any prominence. What is wanted, (and we sincerely believe the great mass of the honest men of the country will agree with us,) is a man who, having a sufficiently extended reputation throughout the whole country for inherent and acquired administrative ability, joined with a character for unswerving integrity, can command the respect as well as the votes of the hard-working, tax-paying people of the land.

It is time that we should awaken, and discard the principle that, because a man, perhaps insignificant in every other respect. for this reason he should be made President of the United States! Or that because another has made what was called a telling speech in Congress, therefore he should be President. It is not expected by sensible people that the man who occupies the White House at Washington shall wear spurs and sword, or that he shall dance attendance at serenades, or before self-constituted committees, to make set-speeches. His work is of a practical character, and for which a proper qualification can only be acquired by thorough intercourse with the people.

The class of men thus fitted for this high office, is small, but it is time that their claims were asserted. Mere managing peliticians, who have nothing but their own interests in view, may turn aside at the mention of the name of George W. Wood-WARD, or ASA PACKER, but we believe that the time is near at hand, when the masses will demand a chief executive from the class to which these men belong. The history of both these persons is a part of the history of our great State. The first is known as one of the most able jurists in the land : the second as a man who has a more thorough acquaintance with the business interests of the country, and a knowledge more nearly complete of its wants as well as of its capacity, than, perhaps, any among the 4,000, 000 of our State. Such qualifications, when combined, with unquestioned integrity, and moral character of the very highest grade, are not to be overlooked. The people are beginning to reflect, and we predict that sterling worth will, at the next election, be the standard by which candidates for the Presidency will be measured.

mon Impeachment."

As a more matter of form, and not because the intelligence will be fresh to our readers; we announce that impeachment is DEAD. We are happy to udd that there was no particular ripping of the entrails of the Nation attending the process of death.

THE Republican party is dying off at a rapid rate since the impeachment farce.

Congress.

IT is about time the Democrats commence organizing for a lively campaign in this Congressional District, and look up their best man for the Congressional nomination. It has not yet even been hinted who will be selected for that position from among the many good and competent men in the Dis-What the Democratic party want in this District is a sterling Democrat and a gentleman in every way qualified for the position; and in the event of such a nomination, we feel confident that the Democracy would make a manly, noble fight in defence of the great principles of Jefferson and Jackson. The question to be decided by the people this fall at the polls is, whether they are in favor of supporting by taxation the indolent negroes of the South, or whether they, the negroes, should do as all poor white men are compelled to do, starve, or carn their own support. We need have no fears of the result in our District if the is. sue be fairly made and met. Mr Mercur, who will be re-nominated by the Radical party, has made for himself a record on this negro question that can not be misunderstood by a single man in the District. This county will be expected to express herself in favor of some suitable person for Congress in our next County Convention which will meet on the 25th of July next; and in view of that the above suggestions have been made. The editors of the press in the District have a voice in the selection of candidates, and it is their duty to make it head. The mero fact that a man edits or owns a paper does not sacrifice his individuality in these matters. He has just as much right as "any other man" to say who shall be his representative in the Halls of the Nation. Make good judicious nominations and all will be well. The changes will be great this fall. The people have gotten their eyes open. They are utterly disgusted and disheartened at the reckless eminently a historical one; and by his death and extravagant mismanagement of the Radical Rumpites, and nothing short of a complete overthrow of that party will satisfy the country. We have a great deal in our favor while the Radicals can use little or no argument to our disadvantage.

THE LICENSE LAW .- At a regular meeting of the Central Democratic Club," held in Wilkes-Barre, on Tuesday evening. The icense Law, recently passed by the Republican Legislature, came up for consideration, Stanley Woodward, Esq., offered the following Preamble and Resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, President Johnson has been a quitted by the Senate of the U.S., on the 11th Article of Impeachment; and, where-is inasmuch as his acquittal is the triumph ion of a mad partisan spirit, be it there-

Resolved, That the nineteen Senators who voted in favor of acquittal, each and all, are entitled to the highest honors which belong to those, who, in hours of partisan strife ocognize neither self or party, but obey the ictates of their consciences, and seek alone to vindicate the cause of truth, of justice, and of law.

Resolved, That the act of Assembly passed by the Republican Legislature of Penn ylvania, an its last session, and approved by the Republican Governor of the State, entiteled "An act for the protection of the Wholesale and Retail Merchants in the County of Luzerne," is oppposed to the in-terests of the people, the spirit of progression, and to every Democratic principle.— We denounce it, as citizens and Democrats, and call upon our representatives in the next Legislature to favor its immediate repeal.

Their whole maintenance and continuhas brought only his hundreds back,)-that | ance depended on a favorable termination. The more sensible men of that once powerful party of | Eliot made good his escape. 'high moral ideas' are fast leaving it like rats from a sinking ship. The business of the Democratic party is to guard well its lines, and not be too hasty in placing these repentants in prominent position.

WE notice that the Montour Amercan of the 28th ult., repeats the slander on the people of York respecting the alleged assault on Gen. Logan, who recently passed through that place in the cars. The libel having been retracted by Forney's Press, in which paper it originated, this persistent attempt to render a whole community odious is utterly inexcusable; and when we say only this, we are drawing it mild. More than a week since the Press, through a card published by the Republican Executive Committee of York county, denied that any thing of the kind had occurred. Shame, brother Brower!

SAD BEREAVEMENT. - We notice by the York papers that Hon. A. J. Glossbrenner, recently met with a severe domestic afflic tion in the death of his son aged 23 years. He is spoken of as a young man of rare promise, and his loss will be deeply mourned by a large circle of loveing friends. We tender the stricken father and family our sincere sympathics in this sad bereave-

A LOVER of radicalism and negroes marked in our hearing the other day, that he could "see more copperheads and rebels now than at any time since the commence ment of the war." We have an idea he'll keep on seeing them until after the November election, when he'll go up the river!

DEAD .- George Derr, son of our esteemed friend David Derr, of Philadelphia, and formerly of this place, died of consumption, on the 21st inst., and was brought to this place for burial. He was a young man highly estoemed by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

On the arrival of the remains at the depot a large concourse of our citizen, friends of the deceased had assembled who followed them to their last resting place .- Danville Intelligencer.

Murderer Three Times Sentenced to be Hung.

In March last, the Court of Appeals in this city affirmed the judgement of the Oyer and Terminer and the Supreme Courts at Poughkeepsie, which condemed Tomas Fitzgerald to death for the murder of Elen Hicks at White Plains, Westchester county, in August, 1866. Fitzgerald had twice before been sentenced to death for this murder, his life having been saved by appeals and stays of proceedings. In view of the judgment of the Court of Appeals, Judge Gilbert on Monday sentenced the prisoner to be hanged on Friday the 20th day of June next. When the prisoner stood up to receive the sentence, the only evidence of emotion were a slight flush of the face and says; "universal suffrage is allowing ail a trem or of the lower lip. He was then re- to vote without conditions." How about moved to his old quarters at the White the women, Docton? The circumstances of this murder are revived by the Poughkeepsie Eagle. "On the 2d of Agust, 1866, five or six soldiers stationed at Throg's Neck proceeded to a small town in Westchester county, and made a call at a bakery there, kept by a man named Eliot. While there an altercation ensued THE defeat of the impeachment trial has between Eliot and his visitors, which resulttaken all the good feeling and vim out of ed in a fight during which Eliot's arm was the editors of the Republican press, and broken. ADVERTISING.—The country is full f men who have got rich by advertising. In fact, no man expects now to keep his business running without informing the people what he is doing, and where he can be found. They have been so long accustomed to gaining that information from newspapers, that they depend upon that source altogether, and govern their trade from what they learn and read at their homes and by their own firesides. A lively advertisement is a friendly talk between business men and their customers. It is a weekly invitation for people to come and trade,-And every mail day, the readers of a local paper expects to see and hear what the morchauts, the manufacturers and the tradesmen have to say. A local newspaper is a traveling agent, taking his weekly round to the family of all their customers. No matter whether times are good or dull, no matter whether trade is brisk or otherwise, no business man can afford to take down his sign, nor withdraw the pleasing influence of a weekly chat with his customers through the newspaper. For a business man to stop advertiring, would be equivalent to his saying, I have stopped busines and ask no more favors of the people.

A Locomotive Struck by Light-

On Friday last, during the hail storm that visited this section, the train bound cast on Toledo, Peoria and Warsaw Railway, Georgo Boies, conductor, and C. A. Martin, Engineer, had just left El Pare when the storm struck it. When about a mile and a half east of that city, the lightning struck a telegraph pole. Instead of shattering it and going to the ground, it burst the insulator, making a blaze of light, passed on the wires to the next insulator, and burst that, with another blaze of light, as intense, a looker-on informs us, as a thousand gas jets, and so on for five poles. It then ran down one pole and leaped to the track, and ran back without doing any damage until it struck the engine. It ran up one of the drivers, and burst a section of two feet out of the solid tire, and passing along the boiler, without doing any damage, it reached the lever and went upward with a blaze of light similar to that on the telegraph wire, and with a detenotion like a small cannon. So intense was the light, and so violent was the shock, that the engineer was nearly blinded, and almost stunned. Our informant says that the appearance of the light on the track was brilliant beyond conseption. It looked as if there was an immense lake of fire ahead, into which the train was about to plunge, and the contrast between the light and the ordinary daylight that followed seemed as great as that between the brightest day and the darkest night .-Peoria (Ill.) Paper.

A WORD FOR NEWSPAPERS, -We clip the following from an exchange and give it a merited prominence:

"Nothing is more common than to hear people talk of what they pay newspapers for advertising, etc., as so much given in charity. Newspapers by enhancing the value of property in their neighborhoods, and giving the localities in which they are published a reputation abroad, benefit all such particularly if they are merchants or real estate owners, thrice the amount yearly of the meagre sum which they pay for their support. Besides, every public spirited citizen has a laudable pride in having a paper which he is not ashamed of, even though he should pick it up in New York or Washington. A good looking, thriving sheet helps to sell property, gives character to the locality; in all respects is a desirable public convenience. If, from any cause, the matter in the local or editorial column should not be quite up to your standard, do not cast it aside and pronounce it of no account, until you are satisfied that there has not been any more labor bestowed upon it than is paid for. If you want a good, readable sheet, it must be supported. And it must not be supported in a spirit of charity either, but because you feel a necessity to support

MENTAL DEPRESSION.—Mental depression is a disease of the nervous system, and, of all the ills flesh is heir to, it is the one that excites the least sympathy. It is a subject of frequent jests, and is called by various derisive terms; but, although it is often laughed at, it is not easy to laugh the patient out of the belief that his ills are all real, for it is a real disorder—the general features of which are constant fear, anxiety and gloom. The external senses, as well as the mental faculties, often manifest symptoms of derangement. Noise, as of falling toms of derangement. Noise, as of failing water, and ringing in the ears are complained of, while black specks and flery sparks flit before the vision. Admonitions like these should not be disregarded, as they may, if neglected, terminate in insanity. The seat of the disease is in the brain and nervous system, and to control the malady it is no cessary to use a powerful tonic and alterative, which will correct and tone those organs without inflaming the brain. This is the secret of the success of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS in cases of this and, for which it is the safest as well as the best of restoratives.

In fact it is the only pure and reliable tonic stimulant known. Many nostrums, purporting to be tonics, are puffed up from time to time in the newspapers, but the sufferer had better let them alone. HOS TETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS has proven itself, by many years of rial, to be in every respect what it is represented to be.
